

Konstantinos Mavros
CEO

Konstantinos holds an MSc degree in Finance from Imperial College, London and has completed high level executive education programmes at Harvard University in the US. Konstantinos has significant and diverse experience in the fields of corporate finance and banking. He began his career as a lecturer at the University of Macedonia in Thessaloniki, Greece. He worked with Societe Generale Bank and later joined Renault VI in Brussels and Intracom group in Athens. Today Konstantinos is the CEO of Positive Energy S.A. as well as the Vice-president of Gennet S.A.. He is an active member of professional associations in Greece and abroad (Imperial College AAB, Young Leaders Association -, Greece, Economist Association in Greece) and he is a visiting lecturer at the Athens Economics University International MBA programme.